Mules to Have Speed Test

Miss Weed, Mrs. James Hewlett and Miss Jennings Are Among Exhibitors

Many out-of-door horse shows will be held this fall, three of them taking place on Long Island—the Smithtown, Hempstead and Piping Rock exhibitions. The first one, the twelfth annual Smithtown Horse Show, will be held tomorrow on Fifty-Acre Field, Hempstead Road, St. James, Long Island. It will be an all-day session, with many prominent classes to be shown, and a display from New York and nearby places will be well represented. One of the classes will be a race for mules under saddle. The executive committee have charge of the show are Mrs. James Hewlett, Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Dr. Robert Emmet, Robert Gilmore, Arthur B. Lawrence, William A. Minetti, Clarence H. Robbins and R. Lawrence Smith. The exhibitors will include Harry T. Peters, William K. Dick, Harvey S. L. dew, Roy Rainey, Miss Marjorie Wald, Mrs. James A. Hewlett, Miss Constance Jennings and most of the members of the executive committee.

Junior League Shows To Be Given at Plaza

The Junior League has decided on the time and the place for its annual entertainment for charity next season. It will take place at the Hotel Plaza, and instead of being held on only two nights performances will be given on the evenings of January 25, 26, 27 and 28. The entertainments have been so successful and so well patronized that it was impossible to find seating capacity for all who wished to attend, and this winter, with the extra performances, several hundred more relatives and friends of the young women composing the league will be in the audience. The entertainments will be given in the new ballroom of the Plaza, which will accommodate many more guests than the old one. The new ballroom will be opened next month.

Miss Gladys McCarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCarty, will be married to Norman Lyman at Crossways, the home of her parents, at Tonawanda, Conn., at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. Weizmann Retained As Leader of Zionists

Dr. Shmarja Levin Delivers One of the Closing Addresses at Congress at Carlsbad Ends

CARLSBAD, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 15.—The World Zionist Congress, which has been in session here more than two weeks, was brought to an end last night. Dr. Chaim Weizmann and Nahum Sokolow, were re-elected, the former remaining as president of the world organization. A proposal to remove Zionist headquarters from London to Palestine or Switzerland was rejected.

The congress accepted a recommendation by the political commission that it send special delegations to Washington, London, Geneva and Palestine to negotiate with the governments in these cities and with the League of Nations concerning the future safeguarding of Zionist interests in Palestine.

The report of the budget commission, recommending an expenditure of $1,500,000 for next year, was adopted. One-third of this sum will be spent on the establishment of credit institutions to aid colonization and the development of industries in Palestine. $250,000 will be used for the settling of immigrants, $200,000 for educational purposes, and the remainder for the purchase of new land, irrigation and sanitary improvements.

The closing addresses were delivered by Rabbi Chajes, Dr. Shmarja Levin of New York; David Yellin, head of the Jewish community of Jerusalem, and the Hebrew poet, H. N. Blauk. All praised the work achieved by the congress.

World Methodists Hail Women as Co-Workers

LONDON, Sept. 15.—(By The Associated Press).—The World's Methodist Conference to-day drew up an address for circulation in Methodist churches throughout the world calling for "aggressive militant Christianity." The address read:

"We need more nerve and audacity. We summon you to aggressive militant Christianity. We welcome the emancipation of women and hail them joyfully as fellow workers."

"We have heard the call for a union of churches. Our first duty is to heal our own divisions and to call our Methodist family to greater unity than we now enjoy."

Bishop James Cannon Jr., Methodist Episcopal Church, South, reviewed the prohibition struggle in the United States and analyzed its results, saying: "The inescapable fact remains that the liquor traffic has forever been branded as an outlaw by the government of the United States."

Victor Murray, of the Primitive Methodist Church, in addressing the World's Methodist Conference here to-day, said "the conspiracy of silence regarding sex has created untold suffering."

"Men and women were created for companionship," he declared, "and it is useless trying to hide from them the deepest of human emotions. Let us learn from the church the things of most concern to their lives they will pick them up from the gutter."

Col. Alvaro Garcia Dies On a Visit to Spain

News of the death of Colonel Alvaro Garcia at Arriendas, Asturias, Spain, on September 14, was received yesterday. Colonel Garcia for many years had made his home in the Port Wadsworth section of Staten Island and was one of the best known foreign manufacturers in this country. He was born in Asturias and after a brief elementary schooling was apprenticed in Havana in an uncle's tobacco manufacturing business. He worked in 1876 and worked for a number of years as a cigarmaker. In 1883 he branched out as a manufacturer of cigars and was a member of various national organizations. In 1918 he acquired full control of the firm of Garcia & Vega.

Mr. Garcia, accompanied by his wife, sailed for his home town in Spain on August 15 in the hope that the sea voyage would aid him in recovering from four years of illness. His body will be brought back to this country for burial.

Tax Bill Will Be Ready When Senate Meets

Penrose Makes Positive Announcement and Expects Already Are at Work on Formal Report

Sharp Fight Is Expected

Objections Overruled by the Committee Afford Material for Debate on Floor

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S WASHINGTON BUREAU
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—At the close of to-day's session of the Senate Finance Committee Chairman Penrose said there no longer was any question as to the revision of the bill and report would be ready for the consideration of the Senate when it reconvened September 21. Experts under direction of the committee are already preparing a report to the Senate.

Many objections to different features of the bill are being made to the committee and to individual Senators. Few are being brought up, but they will be a factor in weighing the discussion when the measure reaches the Senate.

Traveling men protested against the action of the committee in requiring to allow their expenses when away from home to be deducted in making up their net incomes. The result was that the committee reconsidered its previous action and adopted the House provision. This allows traveling salesmen to exempt from their gross income their expenses for meals and lodging while away from their homes.

Cereal Beverages Favored
The committee also reconsidered the beverage section and agreed to fix a rate on all cereal beverages and carbonated and non-carbonated beverages at 2 cents a gallon. The House imposed 4 cents on cereal beverages and 2 cents on others except distilled beverages, which it imposed 3 cents.

Chairman Penrose announced there would be no change in the committee on the tobacco rates. These are left as the existing law, both by the House and by the Finance Committee. The committee has not yet acted on insurance taxes.

The consideration of the estate tax title of the bill was completed, with technical changes largely administrative. The rates were not changed from the House level.

Senator McCahill has not yet forced a test on the sales tax plan which he advocates. He is expected to do so tomorrow, as the committee is under agreement to vote on the bill and all pending amendments.

The graduated surtax rates under 32 per cent await final action by the committee. These also will probably be disposed of tomorrow.

No Action on 2.75 Beer

In the absence of Senator Calder, who has been in New York on account of the primary, the committee has done nothing with his proposition to impose a 2.75 cent tax on beer. Senator Calder is expected to-morrow and a vote is looked for then. The committee is not expected to sustain the plan.

Senators of the agricultural bloc are giving informal consideration to the tax bill as it is expected to emanate from the Finance Committee. They are certain to oppose some features of the bill, but they are not expected to fight the retention of part of the transportation taxes in 1922. They are especially anxious to see freight traffic revived by the removal of the step toward reducing freight charges.

The agricultural Senators, too, will oppose abolition of the excess profits taxes after January 1, 1922.

William J. Smyth, Long Belasco Manager, Dead

William J. Smyth, for twenty years manager of the Belasco Theatre, died to-day at his home, 106 Central Park West, of heart disease. He was born in Ireland and came to this country in 1887. He was a member of the Belasco Theatre and had been connected with the New York theatre since 1887.

Mr. Smyth's first position was with the Samuel Cupples Company in his native Ireland, but he was soon connected with the Belasco Theatre. He was a member of the Belasco Theatre and had been connected with the New York theatre since 1887.

Mr. Smyth presented William Collier in "The Man from Mexico," and also "On the Quiver," a comedy by Augustus Thomas. With Myron F. Rice he produced the farcical success "My Friend from India," which was the talk of Broadway and had long engagements throughout the country and later in England.

On April 19, 1897, he married Miss Sydney Armstrong, for many years famous as a leading woman in Broadway productions. He is survived by his wife and a niece, Miss Georgiana Stoddard.

Mr. Smyth was a member of the Belasco Theatre and had been connected with the New York theatre since 1887.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN JACOBS

Abraham Lincoln Jacobs, senior member of the law firm of A. L. &

S. F. Jacobs, 39 Broad Street, died Tuesday night following an operation in Mt. Sinai Hospital. He was sixty years old and had practiced law here for thirty-five years, principally as attorney for trans-Atlantic steamship companies. The funeral services will be held at 9:30 o'clock this morning from his late home, 57 West Seventy-fifth Street.

Mr. Jacobs was legal adviser of the Erie's and ex-officio member of its board of governors. He is survived by two brothers, four sisters and his mother.

34 Dioceses Ratify Dr. Shipman's Election

Thirty-four dioceses of the Episcopal Church have ratified the election of the Rev. Dr. Harburt Shipman as a Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, it was announced yesterday. Only two more dioceses in his favor are necessary to give him the majority for ratification. The latest diocese to tender support is that of North Carolina.

Opposition to Dr. Shipman's election was voiced by high churchmen because of his connection as a contributing editor with "The Chronicle," a monthly magazine published at Poughkeepsie. They headed a movement to prevent his being consecrated a bishop.

As soon as enough of the dioceses have been heard from to make a majority for or against the result will be sent to the Right Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, of St. Louis, presiding Bishop of the Church. The 105 bishops will then take a vote on the issue.

Bankers Go West To-day

Three special trains of the New York Central Railroad will leave the Grand Central Terminal at 3 o'clock this afternoon en route to the Pacific Coast. They will carry hundreds of western bankers to the annual convention of the American Bankers Association, which is to be held in Los Angeles, October 3 to 7.

Representatives of practically every financial institution in and near New York will be among the delegates. Approximately 250 out-of-town bankers and members of their parties were in the city yesterday, preparatory to departure.

The trains will stop at Chicago and then go northward to St. Paul and proceed via Portland, Moose Jaw, Banff, Lake Louise, Field, Glacier, Vancouver, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, Shasta, Marysville, the Yosemite and San Francisco to Los Angeles.

Birth, Engagement, Marriage, Death and in Memoriam Notices may be telephoned to The Tribune any time up to midnight for insertion in the next day's paper.

Telephone Beckman 3000.
